

Are you interested in studying law at King's College London?

If you are, do join Professor Catharine MacMillan, Director of Undergraduate Admissions at the Dickson Poon School of Law, King's College London on Tuesday, 26th of March 2019 between 6.30 and 8.30 pm at the Chinese International School at 1 Hau Yuen Path, Braemar Hill, Hong Kong.

Professor MacMillan will discuss the nature of private law and the study of law at King's College London. Her discussion will include an explanation of the various undergraduate law programmes at the Dickson Poon School of Law and how to apply for these programmes. There will also be an opportunity to ask questions.

The Dickson Poon School of Law, King's College London is one of the oldest law schools in England and recognised globally as one of the best law schools in the world. The School has played an integral role in the life of King's since the university was formed almost 200 years ago. King's College London has been in service to society since its foundation and is proud to continue in that tradition. The Dickson Poon School of Law is committed to excellent research and teaching addressed to some of the most pressing issues of our time.

Students and their parents and carers are welcome to attend this discussion. Please reply by email to sarah.heath@kcl.ac.uk by 11 March 2019 if you would like to attend and how many people are in your party. The information you forward to us will be used to indicate the numbers who wish to attend. King's College London's privacy notice can be found at: <https://www.kcl.ac.uk/terms/privacy>.